- 19. Professional Growth Plan: An individualized plan for a certified personnel that is focused on improving professional practice and leadership skills, aligned with performance standards and the specific goals and objectives of the school improvement plan or the district improvement plan, built using a variety of sources and types of data that reflect student needs and strengths, evaluatee data, and school and district data, produced in consultation with the evaluator and includes: (a) Goals for enrichment and development that are established by the evaluatee in consultation with the evaluator; (b) Objectives or targets aligned to the goals; (c) An action plan for achieving the objectives or targets and a plan for monitoring progress; (d) A method for evaluating success; and (e) The identification, prioritization, and coordination of presently available school and district resources to accomplish the goals.

- 20. Professional Practice: The demonstration, in the school environment, of the evaluatee's professional knowledge and skill.
- 21. Self-Reflection: The process by which certified personnel assesses the effectiveness and adequacy of their knowledge and performance for the purpose of identifying areas for professional learning and growth.
- 22. Sources of Evidence: Documents or demonstrations that indicate proof of a particular descriptor.
- 23. Student Voice Survey: A student perception survey will be administered annually to a minimum of one (1) group of students per teacher evaluatee and provides data on specific aspects of the instructional environment and professional practice of the teacher or other professional evaluatee.
- 24. Summative Evaluation: The summary of, and conclusions from, the evaluation data that occurs at the end of an evaluation cycle, and includes a conference between the evaluator and the evaluated certified employee and a written evaluation report.
- 25. Summative Rating: The summative description of a teacher, other professional, principal, or assistant principal evaluatee's performance.
- Teacher: A certified school personnel who has been assigned the lead responsibility for student learning in a classroom, grade level, subject, or course and holds a teaching certificate.
- 27. TPGES: Teacher Professional Growth and Effectiveness System
- 28. Working Conditions Survey Goal: a school improvement goal set by a principal or assistant principal every two (2) years with the use of data from the department-approved working conditions survey.

The Kentucky Framework for Teaching with Specialist Frameworks for Other Professionals

The Kentucky Framework for Teaching is designed to support student achievement and professional practice through the performance measures and domains of:

Framework for Teaching

Planning: Planning and Preparation Environment: Classroom Environment

Instruction: Instruction

Professionalism: Professional Responsibilities

Specialist Frameworks for Other Professionals

Planning: Planning and Preparation Environment: The Environment Instruction: Delivery of Service

Professionalism: Professional Responsibilities

The Frameworks also include themes such as equity, cultural competence, high expectations, developmental appropriateness, accommodating individual needs, effective technology integration, and student assumption of responsibility. They provide structure for feedback for continuous improvement through individual goals that target student and professional growth, thus supporting overall school improvement. Evidence documenting professional practice is situated within one or more of the four domains of the framework. Performance is rated for each domain according to four performance levels: Ineffective, Developing, Accomplished, and Exemplary. The summative rating is a holistic representation of performance, combining data from multiple sources of evidence across each domain along with professional judgement.

Evaluators must use the following categories of evidence in determining the summative rating:

Required by District

- Professional Growth Planning and Self-Reflection
- Observation
- Measures of Student Learning
- Products of Practice
- Other Sources

All components and sources of evidence-supporting an educator's professional practice will be completed and documented to inform the Summative Rating.

All Summative Ratings will be documented.

All evidences used in the evaluation of certified personnel shall be documented on appropriate forms.

Specialist Frameworks for Other Professionals will also be used for other district certified personnel such as supervisors/coordinators/directors and school psychologists.

All certified personnel will have the summative evaluation process explained and discussed no later than the end of the first thirty (30) calendar days of reporting for employment each school year.

All certified personnel have the opportunity to submit a written statement in response to the summative rating and that response is included in the official personnel record.

Professional Practice

SELF-REFLECTION AND PROFESSIONAL GROWTH PLANNING

Reflective practices and professional growth planning are iterative processes. The teacher (1) reflects on his or her current growth needs based on multiple sources of data and identifies an area or areas for focus; (2) collaborates with his or her administrator to develop a professional growth plan and action steps; (3) implements the plan; (4) regularly reflects on the progress and impact of the plan on his or her professional practice; (5) modifies the plan as appropriate; (6) continues implementation and ongoing reflection; (7) and, finally, conducts a summative reflection on the degree of goal attainment and the implications for next steps.

The Professional Growth Plan addresses realistic, focused, and measurable professional goals. The plan connects data from multiple sources including classroom observation feedback, data on student growth and achievement, and professional growth needs identified through self-assessment and reflection. In collaboration with the administrators, teachers identify explicit goals which drive the focus of professional growth activities, support, and on-going reflection.

Required by District

- All Teachers and Other Professionals participate in self-reflection and professional growth planning each year.
- The Self-Reflection may be submitted either by the end of the current school year for the upcoming school year or by October 1 and may be revisited upon principal suggestion or teacher request. (Form E)
- PGP may be submitted either by the end of the current school year for the upcoming school year or by October 1 and may be revisited upon principal suggestion or teacher request. The principal will approve the PGP within 30 days of submission. (Form E)
- New staff members or late hires will complete the Self-Reflection and PGP within 30 school days of employment or by October 1, whichever is later. The principal will approve the PGP within 30 days of submission.
- Other district certified personnel such as supervisors/coordinators/directors may use either Form G or N for Professional Growth.
- Other district certified personnel such as school psychologists may use either Form N or O for Professional Growth.

OBSERVATION

The observation process is one source of evidence to determine educator effectiveness that includes supervisor observation for each certified teacher and other professional. The supervisor observation provides documentation and feedback to measure the effectiveness of professional practice. The rationale for observation is to encourage continued professional learning in teaching and learning through critical reflection.

OBSERVATION MODEL

The observation model must fulfill the following minimum criteria:

Required by District

- ◆ A minimum of two observations conducted by the supervisor per summative cycle.
- Final observation is conducted by the supervisor and is a full observation.
- Observers will conduct one mini observation of approximately 20-30 minutes. The final observation is a formal observation consisting of a full class or lesson observation. Additional observations may be conducted as needed.
- ◆ Observation evidence will be documented. (Forms G and H)
- Observers will follow the Observation Schedule that follows.

OBSERVATION SCHEDULE

Required by District

- Observations may begin after the evaluation training takes place within 30 calendar days of reporting for employment each school year.
- Certified evaluations will be completed by May 1.

Non-Tenured (One Year Summative Cycle Observation Window):

- 1st Observation Window: A minimum of one Mini observation will be conducted after the start of school through the first semester.
- 2nd Observation Window: A minimum of one Full observation will be conducted from January through May 1.

Tenured (Three Year Summative Cycle Observation Window):

• Year 1 - A minimum of one Mini observation will be conducted by May 1.

OR

• Year 2 - A minimum of one Mini observation will be conducted by May 1.

AND

• Year 3 - The Principal will conduct a minimum of one Full Observation by May 1.

Late Hires to District:

• A minimum of two observations (one Mini and one Full) by supervisor for any teacher or other professional hired on or after 60 instructional days following the first instructional day.

OBSERVATION CONFERENCING

Observers will adhere to the following observation conferencing requirements for teachers and other professionals:

Required by District

• Conduct observation post-conference within five working days following each observation.

Pre-Conferencing:

• An observation pre-conference may be conducted. Observation pre-conferences may be completed electronically or in person for Full and Mini observations. (Form F)

Post-Conferencing:

- The observation post-conference for Full and Mini observations will be conducted in person within five (5) working days of the observation.
- The observed staff member must sign the Observation Post-Conference Form acknowledging understanding of the contents of the report.

OBSERVATION CERTIFICATION

All administrators serving as a primary evaluator must complete the Initial Certified Evaluation Training prior to conducting observations for the purpose of evaluation and subsequent annual updates.

Required by District

- All administrators who evaluate certified staff must obtain the initial Certified Evaluation Training of 12 hours prior to conducting observations. Update Certified Evaluation Training of six EILA-approved hours is required each year and is to include observation training.
- ◆ In cases where the supervisor is not certified or there is a late hire administrator, the superintendent/designee will assign a certified administrator.
- Evaluators must meet all CEP requirements prior to conducting a formative or summative evaluation.
- Observation Training is expected prior to conducting observations for evaluation purposes.

STUDENT VOICE

The Student Voice Survey is a confidential, survey collecting student feedback on specific aspects of the classroom experience and teaching practice.

Required by District

- All teachers will participate annually in the Student Voice Survey with a minimum of one identified group of students.
- All teachers and appropriate administrative staff will read, understand, and sign the district's Student Voice Ethics Statement. (Form D)
- The Student Voice Survey will be administered between the hours of 7:00 AM and 5:00 PM local time.
- The survey will be administered in the school.
- Survey data will be considered only when ten or more students are respondents.
- The District Student Voice Survey Point-of-Contact will be the Instructional Coordinator/ Instructional Supervisor and/or Chief Information Officer.
- School Leadership will systematically determine the section(s)/student group(s) who will participate in the survey according to the following minimum guidelines.
  - ❖ High School and Middle School 1st Period classes will complete Student Voice Survey.
  - If teacher does not have a 1st period class, their 2nd period students will complete Student Voice Survey.
  - ❖ If 1st period has collaborating teacher, students will conduct survey for collaborating teacher. Then the primary teacher will have 2nd period class complete Student Voice Survey.
  - Elementary students will complete Student Voice Survey for homeroom teacher. K-2 Student Voice Survey will be optional.
  - ❖ A Resource Teacher with self-contained classrooms of less than 10 students will use a combination of his/her self-contained classes to meet the minimum number to receive survey data.
- Students with Individual Educational Plans (IEP), EL, or 504 Plans will receive established modifications.
- Student Voice Surveys will be conducted by May 15.

PRODUCTS OF PRACTICE/OTHER SOURCES OF EVIDENCE

Teachers and Other Professionals may provide additional evidences to support assessment of their own professional practice.

Required by District

- observations conducted by certified supervisor observer(s)
- student voice survey(s)
- self-reflection and professional growth plans

Sources of evidence that may be used to support educator practice:

- student growth goal data
- program review evidence
- team-developed curriculum units
- lesson plans
- communication evidence
- timely, targeted feedback from mini or informal observations
- student data records
- student work
- student formative and/or summative course evaluations/feedback
- minutes from PLCs
- teacher reflections and/or self-reflections
- teacher interviews
- teacher committee or team contributions
- parent engagement surveys
- records of student and/or teacher attendance
- video lessons
- engagement in professional organizations
- action research
- professional development documentation
- student surveys
- collaboration with all stakeholders
- classroom management evidence

Determining the Summative Rating

Supervisors are responsible for determining the Summative Rating for each teacher at the conclusion of the summative evaluation year. These ratings are Ineffective, Developing, Accomplished, or Exemplary. The Summative Rating is informed by the educator's ratings on the four performance measures. These performance measures are Planning, Environment, Instruction, and Professionalism. The evaluator determines the Summative Rating based on the ratings of the four performance measures by using appropriate sources of evidence, professional judgment, and district decision rules to determine the educator's performance.

SUMMATIVE RATING

The district Framework for Teaching stands as the critical rubric for providing educators and evaluators with concrete descriptions of practice associated with specific performance measures and domains. Each element describes a discrete behavior or related set of behaviors that educators and evaluators can prioritize for evidence-gathering, feedback, and eventually, evaluation. Supervisors organize and analyze evidence for each individual educator based on these concrete descriptions.

The process concludes with the evaluator's analysis of evidence and the final assessment of practice in relation to performance described under each of the performance measures at the culmination of an educator's cycle.

Required by District

- Provide a rating for each performance measure based on evidence and professional judgement.
- Use decision rules to determine summative rating.
- The summative rating is to be completed by May 1.

CRITERIA FOR DETERMINING A TEACHER'S & OTHER PROFESSIONAL'S SUMMATIVE RATING

IF	THEN
Environment and Instruction are rated INEFFECTIVE	Summative Rating shall be INEFFECTIVE

Professional Growth Plan and Summative Cycle

Based on the overall Summative Rating, the type of Professional Growth Plan and the length of the summative cycle is determined using the chart below.

(District level personnel will be evaluated annually; however, they will follow the criteria for professional growth plan and cycle as explained in the chart below.)

BRECKINRIDGE COUNTY PROFESSIONAL GROWTH AND EFFECTIVENESS SYSTEM (BC PPGES)

PRINCIPAL PROFESSIONAL GROWTH AND EFFECTIVENESS SYSTEM COMPONENTS

Overview and Summative Model

Evaluators will look for trends and patterns in practice across multiple types of evidence and apply their professional judgment based on evidence when evaluating a principal.

PRINCIPAL PERFORMANCE MEASURES

The Principal Performance Measures of Planning, Environment, Instruction, and Professionalism are designed to support student achievement and professional best practice through the standards of Mission, Vision and Core Values; Ethics and Professional Norms: Equity and Cultural Responsiveness; Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment; Community of Care and Support for Students; Professional Capacity of School Personnel; Professional Community for Teachers and Staff; Meaningful Engagement of Families and Community; Operations and Management; and School Improvement. Included in the Performance Measure Standards are Leadership Practice Standard Statements (specific area of leadership practice that describes overall intent and responsibilities of effective educational leaders relative to the standard) and Elements (subcategories of the leadership practice/standard) that provide examples of observable, tangible behaviors that provide evidence of each standard. The Performance Measure Standards provide the structure for feedback for continuous improvement through individual goals that target professional growth, thus supporting overall student achievement and school improvement. Evidence supporting a principal's or assistant principal's professional practice will be situated within one or more of the ten standards in the four performance measures. Performance will be rated for each performance measure standard according to the four performance levels: Ineffective, Developing, Accomplished, and Exemplary. The summative rating will be a holistic representation of performance, combining data from multiple sources of evidence across each performance measure standard and professional judgement. (Pages 133-145)

Evaluators must use the following categories of evidence in determining the Summative Rating:

Required Sources of Evidence

- Professional Growth Planning and Self-Reflection
- Site-Visits
- Working Conditions Goal

Evaluators may use the following categories of evidence in determining Summative Rating:

- Measures of Student Learning
- Products of Practice
- Other Sources

All components and sources of evidence-supporting an educator's professional practice will be completed and documented to inform the Summative Rating.

All certified personnel will have the summative evaluation process explained and discussed no later than the end of the first thirty (30) calendar days of reporting for employment each school year.

All certified personnel have the opportunity to submit a written statement in response to the summative rating and that response is included in the official personnel record.

Professional Practice

The following sections provide a detailed overview of the various sources of evidence used to inform Professional Practice Summative Rating.

PROFESSIONAL GROWTH PLANNING AND SELF-REFLECTION

Completed by principals, assistant principals & other district certified personnel non-principal administrators.

The Professional Growth Plan will address realistic, focused, and measurable professional goals. The plan will connect data from multiple sources including site-visit conferences, data on student growth and achievement, and professional growth needs identified through self-assessment and reflection. Self-reflection improves principal practice through ongoing, careful consideration of the impact of leadership practice on student growth and achievement.

Required by District

- All principals, assistant principals & other district certified personnel non-principal administrator will participate in self-reflection and professional growth planning each year.
- The Self-Reflection may be submitted either by the end of the current school year for the upcoming school year or by October 1.
- PGP may be submitted either by the end of the current school year for the upcoming school year or by October 1. The superintendent will approve the PGP within 30 days of submission.
- New administrators/Late hires will complete the Self-Reflection and PGP within 30 school days of employment or October 1, whichever is later. The superintendent will approve the PGP within 30 days of submission.
- Complete FORM J Reflective Practice, Working Conditions and Professional Growth Planning Template.
- Other district certified personnel non-principal administrators may use either Form J or N for Professional Growth.

SITE-VISITS

Completed by supervisor of principal (Formal site visits are not required for assistant principals and other district certified personnel non-principal administrators.)

Site visits are a method by which the superintendent/designee may gain insight into the principal's practice in relation to the performance measure. During a site visit, the superintendent will discuss various aspects of the job with the principal, and will use the principal's responses to determine issues to further explore with the faculty and staff. Additionally, the principal may explain the successes and trials the school community has experienced in relation to school improvement.

Required by District

- Site-visits conducted at least twice each year. (Formal site-visits are not required for the assistant principal.)
- The superintendent will conduct a minimum of one site-visit per semester. Superintendent will conduct observation conference with principal within five (5) working days. Superintendent will communicate and discuss with principal, during the post-conference, the site-visit connections to the Principal Performance Measure Domain Standards (Forms L & M)
- For late hires, superintendent and principal will discuss requirements and develop timeline.
- Complete FORM J Reflective Practice, Working Conditions and Professional Growth Planning Template.
- Other district certified personnel non-principal administrators will conference with superintendent/designee for a minimum of once per year for evaluation purposes.

WORKING CONDITIONS GOAL

Goal inherited by Assistant Principal

Principals are responsible for setting a two-year Working Conditions Growth Goal based on the most recent Working Conditions Survey. The principal's effort to accomplish the Working Conditions Growth Goal is a powerful way to enhance professional performance and, in turn, positively impact school culture and student success.

Required by District

- Working Conditions Goal is developed following the completion of the Working Conditions Survey.
- Minimum of one two-year goal.
- Principals will set a minimum of one Working Conditions Goal for each two year period.
- A mid-point review survey may be conducted by schools focusing on areas of concerns related to the Working Conditions Goals. Data from the surveys will be shared during staff and SBDM Council meetings.
- The Working Conditions Goal will be documented on district forms. (Form J)

PRODUCTS OF PRACTICE/OTHER SOURCES OF EVIDENCE

Principals/Assistant principals and other district certified personnel non-principal administrators may provide additional evidences—to support assessment of their own professional practice. This evidence should yield information related to the principal's/assistant principal's practice within the performance measure domain standards.

Local District Decision

Supporting evidence may come from the following list:

- SBDM Minutes
- Faculty Meeting Agendas and Minutes
- Department/Grade Level Agendas and Minutes
- PLC Agendas and Minutes
- Leadership Team Agendas and Minutes
- Instructional Round/Walk-Through documentation
- Budgets
- EILA/Professional Learning experience documentation
- Surveys
- Professional Organization memberships
- Parent/Community engagement surveys
- Parent/Community engagement events documentation
- School schedules
- School Assessment Data

Determining the Summative Rating

The superintendent is responsible for determining the Summative Rating for each principal at the conclusion of the summative evaluation year, and the principal is responsible for determining the Summative Rating for each assistant principal at the conclusion of the summative evaluation year. These ratings are Ineffective, Developing, Accomplished, or Exemplary. The Summative Rating is informed by the principal's or assistant principal's and other district certified personnel non-principal administrator's ratings on the four performance measures. These performance measures are Planning, Environment, Instruction, and Professionalism. The evaluator determines the Summative Rating_based on the ratings of the four performance measures by using appropriate sources of evidence, professional judgment, and district decision rules to determine the administrator's performance.

SUMMATIVE RATING

The district Principal Professional Growth and Effectiveness Performance Standards stand as the critical rubric for providing principals, assistant principals, other district certified personnel non-principal administrators and evaluators with concrete descriptions of practice associated with each of the four specific performance measures of Planning, Environment, Instruction, and Professionalism. Each element describes a discrete behavior or related set of behaviors that principals, assistant principals and evaluators can prioritize for evidence-gathering, feedback, and eventually, evaluation. Supervisors organize and analyze evidence for each individual principal or assistant principal based on these concrete descriptions.

The process concludes with the evaluator's analysis of evidence and the final assessment of practice in relation to performance described under each of the performance measures at the culmination of the principal's or assistant principal's cycle.

Required by District

- Provide a rating for each performance measure based on evidence and professional judgement.
- Use decision rules to determine summative rating.
- The summative rating is to be completed by May 1.

A principal's/assistant principal's Summative Rating is determined by the evaluator based on the principal's ratings on the performance measures. Using the sources of evidence for principals and assistant principals, evaluators will use professional judgment to determine a rating for the performance measures. Next, the evaluator will use the following decision rules for determining the Summative Rating:

CRITERIA FOR DETERMINING A PRINCIPAL'S, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL'S OR OTHER DISTRICT CERTIFIED PERSONNEL NON-PRINCIPAL ADMINISTRATOR'S SUMMATIVE RATING

Other District Certified Personnel

Administrator (Non-Principal)

Administrator (Non-Principal) staff will follow the Principal Professional Growth and Effectiveness System for Breckinridge County but may use either Form J or N for Professional Growth. (See pages 14-19)

Supervisor/Coordinator/Director

Supervisor/Coordinator/Director staff will follow the Other Professional Growth and Effectiveness System for Breckinridge County but may use either Form G or N for Professional Growth. (See pages 7-13)

School Psychologist

School psychologists will follow the other professional growth and effectiveness system for Breckinridge County using the school psychologist framework documents but may use Form N or O for Professional Growth. (See pages 7-13)

All components and sources of evidence-supporting an educator's professional practice will be completed and documented to inform the Summative Rating.

All certified personnel will have the summative evaluation process explained and discussed no later than the end of the first thirty (30) calendar days of reporting for employment each school year.

All certified personnel have the opportunity to submit a written statement in response to the summative rating and that response is included in the official personnel record.

Appeals Process for Breckinridge County School District

Local Appeals Committee

- A. Employee/Employer Rights:
  - 1. The employee has a right to a hearing in every appeal, and

- 2. the opportunity, reasonably in advance of the hearing for the supervisor and staff member, to adequately review all documents that are to be presented to the appeals panel, and
- 3. the right to presence of staff member's chosen representative at the hearing.
- B. The following procedures are established for implementing the board's policy on evaluation appeals of certified staff members:
  - Membership The Appeals Panel shall have three (3) members two (2) are elected by and from the certified staff members of the district and one (1) appointed by the board of education. Two
    (2) alternates shall also be elected by and from the certified staff and one (1) alternate certified staff member shall be appointed by the board to serve in the event an elected member cannot serve.
  - 2. Nomination Each school must nominate one (1) certified person for election to the appeals panel. The names of the staff members nominated shall be submitted to the Superintendent by April 30th.
  - 3. Election The Superintendent or designee will prepare a ballot of eligible certified staff members nominated. Ballots will be distributed electronically to all certified staff and results will be tabulated through a secure online voting process. Results of balloting will be communicated via e-mail to all certified staff members.
  - 4. Elected The two (2) certified staff members receiving the highest number of votes shall be panel members and the staff members ranking third and fourth in the voting shall be alternates.
  - 5. Terms The Appeals Panel Members will serve for one (1) year with term running from July 1st to June 30th. Members may be reappointed or re-elected.
  - 6. Chairperson The chairperson of the panel shall be the certified employee appointed by the hoard
  - 7. Conflicts of Interest No panel member shall serve on any appeal panel on which he/she was the evaluator. Whenever a panel member or a panel member's immediate family appeals to the panel, the member shall not serve for that appeal. Immediate family shall include father, mother, brother, sister, husband, wife, son, daughter, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, grandparent, and corresponding in-laws and step relations.
  - 8. Appeals Form -The appeal shall be in writing and signed on a form prescribed by the evaluation plan. The form shall state that evaluation records may be presented to and reviewed by the panel.
  - 9. Burden of Proof The certified staff member appealing to the panel has the burden of proof. The evaluator may respond to any statements made by the staff member and may present written records which support the summative evaluation.
  - 10. Hearings Meetings of the Appeal Panel will be called by the chairperson as needed.
  - 11. Records Detailed minutes of the panel meetings shall be recorded and made a part of the panel's recommendation(s). The panel shall have the authority to review all documents related to the evaluation.
  - 12. Responsibility/Purpose The Appeals Panel shall review any and all appeals to verify that the evaluation plan has been followed as prescribed. The panel shall have no jurisdiction relative to complaints involving the professional judgmental conclusions of the evaluation.
  - 13. Procedure Any certified staff member who believes that he or she was not fairly evaluated on the summative evaluation may appeal to the panel within five (5) working days of the receipt of the summative evaluation. The certified employee may review any evaluation material related to him/her. Both the evaluator and the evaluatee shall be given the opportunity to review documents to be given to the hearing committee and may have representation of their choosing.
  - 14. Interviews: The panel shall have the authority to interview both the appealing staff member and the evaluator.
  - 15. Panel Recommendation The panel shall issue a report to the District Superintendent within fifteen (15) working days of the date an appeal is filed. In the case of appeals of evaluations conducted by the Superintendent, the panel shall report to the board. The report of the panel shall include a brief summary of the meetings held and the process used to make the recommendation(s). A copy of the panel's report and recommendations(s) shall be provided to the staff member submitting the appeal and the evaluator. If the panel's recommendation is not unanimous the dissenting member may present a minority report.

- 16. Superintendent The Superintendent shall receive the panel's recommendation and take such action as he/she deems appropriate or necessary. The Superintendent may hold hearings and/or order a new evaluation by a second certified evaluator as necessary. In the case of a new evaluation, both evaluations shall be included in the staff member's personnel file.
- 17. Personnel File Personnel records contain material of a personal nature, the disclosure of which would constitute an invasion of privacy and, therefore, those portions of personnel records are not open for public inspection. Only one (1) official personnel file shall be maintained for each staff member. This file shall be maintained in the Central Office and shall be under the custody of the Superintendent or the Superintendent's designee. This file may be inspected by the employee.

State Appeals Panel

According to 156.557 Section 9,

- (1) A certified employee who feels that the local district is not properly implementing the evaluation plan according to the way it was approved by the Kentucky Department of Education shall have the opportunity to appeal to the Kentucky Board of Education.
- (2) The appeal procedures shall be as follows:
- (a) The Kentucky Board of Education shall appoint a committee of three (3) state board members to serve on the State Evaluation Appeals Panel. Its jurisdiction shall be limited to procedural matters already addressed by the local appeals panel required by KRS 156.557(5). The panel shall not have jurisdiction relative to a complaint involving the professional judgmental conclusion of an evaluation, and the panel's review shall be limited to the record of proceedings at the local district level.
- (b) No later than thirty (30) days after the final action or decision at the local district level, the certified employee may submit a written request to the chief state school officer for a review before the State Evaluation Appeals Panel. An appeal not filed in a timely manner shall not be considered. A specific description of the complaint and grounds for appeal shall be submitted with this request.
- (c) A brief, written statement, and other documents which a party wants considered by the State Evaluation Appeals Panel shall be filed with the panel and served on the opposing party at least twenty (20) days prior to the scheduled review.
- (d) A decision of the appeals panel shall be rendered within fifteen (15) working days after the review.
- (e) A determination of noncompliance shall render the evaluation void, and the employee shall have the right to be reevaluated. ## Instructions for Completing The Individual Performance Improvement Plan

This Plan is to be completed by the evaluator (in consultation with the evaluatee) as it relates to an inadequate or "ineffective" on any one Domain or more from the Summative Evaluation or when an immediate change in performance or behavior is required. The evaluator will consult with the evaluatee to identify performance improvement goals and objectives; procedures and activities designed to achieve the goals; and targeted dates for appraising the evaluatee's improvement of the standard. The evaluator will make the final decision after consultation with the evaluatee. It is the evaluator's responsibility to document all actions taken to assist the evaluatee in improving his/her performance.

1. Domain Number:

- a. Identify the specific domain(s) from the Summative Evaluation Form that has an "ineffective" rating assigned.
- b. Identify the specific performance and/or behavior targeted for improvement.

2. Present Professional Development Stage

(Select the stage of professional development that best reflects the evaluatee's level.)

- O = Orientation/Awareness
- A = Preparation/Application
- I = Implementation/Management
- R = Refinement/Impact

3. Growth/Objective(s) Goals

Growth objectives and goals must address the specific domain(s) rated as "ineffective" on the Summative Evaluation document. The evaluatee and the evaluator work closely to correct the identified weakness(es) and/or the performance and/or behavior targeted for improvement.

4. Procedures and Activities for Achieving Goal(s) and Objective(s)

Identify and design specific procedures and activities for the improvement of performance or behavior. Include support personnel, when appropriate.

5. Evaluation Method and Target Dates

List the specific target dates and appraisal methods used to determine improvement of performance or behavior. Exact documentation and record keeping of all actions must be provided to the evaluatee.

6. Documentation of all reviews, corrective actions, and evaluator's assistance must be provided periodically (as they occur) to the evaluate

(Evaluators must follow the local district professional development growth and evaluation plan processes, and procedures for implementing an Individual Performance Improvement Plan.)

Questions for Discussion:	Notes:
What is your identified student learning target(s)?
To which part of your curriculum does this lesson relate?
How does this learning fit in the sequence of learning for this class?
Briefly describe the students in this class, including those with special needs.
How will you engage the students in the learning? What will you do? What will the students do? Will the students work in groups, or individually, or as a large group? Provide any materials that the students will be using.
How will you differentiate instruction for individuals or groups of students?
How and when will you know whether the students have achieved the learning target(s)?
Is there anything that you would like me to specifically observe during the lesson?

Possible	e Exampl	e
----------	----------	---

- The lesson plan includes a teacher presentation for an entire 30-minute period to a group of 7-year-olds.
- The teacher plans to give her ELL students the same writing assignment she gives the rest of the class.
- The teacher plans to teach his class Christmas carols, despite the fact that he has four religions represented among his students.
- The teacher's lesson plan has the same assignment for the entire class, in spite of the fact that one activity is beyond the reach of some students.
- In the unit on Mexico, the teacher has not incorporated perspectives from the three Mexican-American children in the class.
- Lesson plans make only peripheral reference to students' interests.
- The teacher knows that some of her students have IEPs, but they're so long that she hasn't read them yet.

- The teacher creates an assessment of students' levels of cognitive development.
- The teacher examines previous year's cumulative folders to ascertain the proficiency levels of groups of students in the class.
- The teacher administers a student interest survey at the beginning of the school year.
- The teacher plans activities based on student-interest.
- The teacher knows that five of her students are in the Garden Club; she plans to have them discuss horticulture as part of the next biology lesson.
- The teacher realizes that not all of his students are Christian and so he plans to read a Hanukkah story in December.
- The teacher plans to ask her Spanish-speaking students to discuss their ancestry as part of their social studies unit on South America.

- The teacher plans his lesson with three different follow-up activities, designed to meet the varied ability levels of his students.
- The teacher plans to provide multiple project options; students will self-select the project that best meets their individual approach to learning.
- The teacher encourages students to be aware of their individual reading levels and make independent reading choices that will be challenging but not too difficult.
- The teacher attends the local Mexican heritage day, meeting several of his students' extended families.
- The teacher regularly creates adapted assessment materials for several students with learning disabilities.

Teaching is a purposeful activity; even the most imaginative activities are directed towards certain desired learning. Therefore, establishing instructional outcomes entails identifying exactly what students will be expected to learn; the outcomes describe not what students will do but what they will learn. The instructional outcomes should reflect important learning and must lend themselves to various forms of assessment so that all students are able to demonstrate their understanding of the content. Insofar as the outcomes determine the instructional activities, the resources used, their suitability for diverse learners, and the methods of assessment employed, they hold a central place in Domain 1.

Learning outcomes are of a number of different types: factual and procedural knowledge, conceptual understanding, thinking and reasoning skills, and collaborative and communication strategies. In addition, some learning outcomes refer to dispositions; not only is it important for students to learn to read, but educators also

Possible Ex	xamples
-------------	---------

- A learning outcome for a fourth-grade class is to make a poster illustrating a poem.
- All the outcomes for a ninth-grade history class are factual knowledge.
- The topic of the social studies unit involves the concept of revolutions, but the teacher expects his students to remember only the important dates of battles.
- Though there are a number of ELL students in the class, the outcomes state that all writing must be grammatically correct.

- Outcomes consist of understanding the relationship between addition and multiplication and memorizing facts
- The outcomes are written with the needs of the "middle" group in mind; however, the advanced students are bored, and some lower-level students are struggling.
- One of the learning outcomes is for students to appreciate the aesthetics of 18th century English poetry.
- The outcomes for the history unit include some factual information, as well as a comparison of the perspectives of different groups in the events leading to the Revolutionary War.
- The teacher reviews the project expectations and modifies some goals to be in line with students' IEP objectives.
- The teacher encourages his students to set their own goals; he provides them a taxonomy of challenge verbs to help them strive for higher expectations.
- Students will develop a concept map that links previous learning goals to those they are currently working on.
- Some students identify additional learning.

Framework for Teaching - Domain 1: Planning & Preparation – Teacher

1D - Demonstrating Knowledge of Resources	Student learning is enhanced by a teacher's skillful use of resources; some of these are provided by the school as "official" materials; others are secured by teachers through their own initiative. Resources fall into several different categories: those used in the classroom by students, those available beyond the classroom walls to enhance student learning, those for teachers to further their own professional knowledge and skill, and those that can provide non-instructional assistance to
<ul> <li>Resources for Classroom Use</li> <li>Resources to Extend Content Knowledge</li> </ul>	of most use to the students. Accompl for example, are available at various re	students. Teachers recognize the importance of discretion in the selection of resources, choosing those that align directly with the learning outcomes and that will be of most use to the students. Accomplished teachers also ensure that the selection of materials and resources is appropriately challenging for every student; texts, for example, are available at various reading levels to guarantee all students access to the content and successfully demonstrate understanding of the learning outcomes. Furthermore, expert teachers look beyond the school for resources to bring their subjects to life and to assist students who need help in both their academic and populations.

Framework for Teaching - Domain 1: Planning & Preparation – Teacher

1E - Designing Coherent Instruction  • Learning Activities • Instructional Materials and Resources	Designing coherent instruction is the heart of planning, reflecting the teacher's knowledge of content and the students in the class, the intended outcomes of instruction, and the available resources. Such planning requires that educators have a clear understanding of the state, district, and school expectations for student learning, and the skill to translate these into a coherent plan. It also requires that teachers understand the characteristics of the students they teach and the active nature of student learning. Educators must determine how best to sequence instruction in a way that will advance student learning through the required content. It further requires the thoughtful construction of lessons that contain cognitively engaging learning activities, the incorporation of appropriate resources and materials, and the intentional grouping of students. Proficient practice in this component recognizes that a well-designed instruction plan addresses the learning needs of various groups of students; one size does not fit all. At the distinguished level the teacher plans instruction that takes into account the specific learning needs of each student and solicits ideas from students on how best to structure the learning.

Groups • Lesson and Unit Structure	<ul> <li>The series of learning experiences is poorly aligned with the instructional outcomes and does not represent a coherent structure.</li> <li>The activities are not designed to engage students in active intellectual activity and have unrealistic time allocation.         Instructional groups do not support the instructional outcomes and offer no variety.     </li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Some of the learning activities and materials are suitable to the instructional outcomes and represent a moderate cognitive challenge but with no differentiation for different students. Instructional groups partially support the instructional outcomes, with an effort by the teacher at providing some variety.</li> <li>The lesson or unit has a recognizable structure; the progression of activities is uneven, with most time allocations reasonable.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Teacher coordinates knowledge of content, of students, and of resources, to design a series of learning experiences aligned to instructional outcomes and suitable to groups of students.</li> <li>The learning activities have reasonable time allocations; they represent significant cognitive challenge, with some differentiation for different groups of students.</li> <li>The lesson or unit has a clear structure, with appropriate and varied use of instructional groups.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Plans represent the coordination of in-depth content knowledge, understanding of different students' needs, and available resources (including technology), resulting in a series of learning activities designed to engage students in high-level cognitive activity.</li> <li>Learning activities are differentiated appropriately for individual learners. Instructional groups are varied appropriately with some opportunity for student choice.</li> <li>The lesson's or unit's structure is clear and allows for different pathways according to diverse student needs.</li> </ul>
• Critical Attributes	<ul> <li>Learning activities are boring and/or not well aligned to the instructional goals.</li> <li>Materials are not engaging or do not meet instructional outcomes.</li> <li>Instructional groups do not support learning.</li> <li>Lesson plans are not structured or sequenced and are unrealistic in their expectations.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Learning activities are moderately challenging.</li> <li>Learning resources are suitable, but there is limited variety.</li> <li>Instructional groups are random or only partially support objectives.</li> <li>Lesson structure is uneven or may be unrealistic in terms of time expectations.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Learning activities are matched to instructional outcomes.</li> <li>Activities provide opportunity for higher-level thinking.</li> <li>Teacher provides a variety of appropriately challenging materials and resources.</li> <li>Instructional student groups are organized thoughtfully to maximize learning and build on student strengths.</li> <li>The plan for the lesson or unit is well structured, with reasonable time allocations.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>In addition to the characteristics of "accomplished":</li> <li>Activities permit student choice.</li> <li>Learning experiences connect to other disciplines.</li> <li>Teacher provides a variety of appropriately challenging resources that are differentiated for students in the class.</li> <li>Lesson plans differentiate for individual student needs.</li> </ul>

• Possible Examples

- The teacher plans to have his 9th graders color in the worksheet after memorizing the parts of a microscope.
- Despite having a textbook that is 15 years old, the teacher plans to use that as the sole resource for his communism unit.
- The teacher organizes her class in rows, seating the students alphabetically; she plans to have students work all year in groups of four selected on the basis of where they are sitting.
- The teacher's lesson plans are written on sticky notes in his grade book; they indicate lecture, activity, or test.

- After the mini-lesson the teacher plans to have the whole class play a game to reinforce the skills she taught.
- The teacher has found an atlas to use as a supplemental resource during the geography unit.
- The teacher always lets students select their own working groups because they behave better when they can choose with whom they wish to sit.
- The teacher's lesson plans are nicely formatted, but the timing for many activities is too short to actually cover the concepts thoroughly.

- The teacher reviews her learning activities with a reference to high-level "action verbs" and rewrites some of the activities to increase the challenge level.
- The teacher creates a list of historical fiction titles that will expand her students' knowledge of the age of exploration.
- The teacher plans for students to complete projects in small groups; he carefully selects group members based on their ability level and learning style.
- The teacher reviews lesson plans with her principal; they are well structured with pacing times and activities clearly indicated.

- The teacher's unit on ecosystems lists a variety of high level activities in a menu; students choose those that suit their approach to learning.
- While completing their projects, the teacher's students will have access to a wide variety of resources that she has coded by reading level so they can make the best selections.
- After the cooperative group lesson, students will reflect on their participation and make suggestions for new group arrangements in the future.
- The lesson plan clearly indicates the concepts taught in the last few lessons; the teacher plans for his students to link the current lesson's outcomes to those they previously learned.

<ul> <li>1F - Designing         Student Assessments</li> <li>Congruence with         Instructional         Outcomes</li> <li>Criteria and         Standards</li> </ul>	Good teaching requires both assessment of learning and assessment for learning. Assessments of learning ensure that teachers know that students have learned the intended outcomes. These assessments must be designed in such a manner that they provide evidence of the full range of learning outcomes; that is, to assess reasoning skills and factual knowledge, different methods are needed. Furthermore, such assessments may need to be adapted to the particular needs of individual students; an ESL student, for example, may need an alternative method of assessment to allow demonstration of understanding. Assessment for learning enables a teacher to incorporate assessments directly into the instructional processes, and to modify or adapt instruction as needed to ensure student understanding. Such assessments, although used during instruction, must be designed as part of the planning process. Such formative assessment strategies are ongoing and may be used by both teachers and students to monitor progress towards the understanding of the learning outcomes.

Teacher intends to use assessment results to plan future instruction for individual students.</li> </ul>
Critical Attributes	<ul> <li>Assessments do not match instructional outcomes.</li> <li>Assessments have no criteria.</li> <li>No formative assessments have been designed.</li> <li>Assessment results do not affect future plans.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Only some of the instructional outcomes are addressed in the planned assessments.</li> <li>Assessment criteria are vague.</li> <li>Plans refer to the use of formative assessments, but they are not fully developed.</li> <li>Assessment results are used to design lesson plans for the whole class, not individual students.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>All the learning outcomes have a method for assessment.</li> <li>Assessment types match learning expectations.</li> <li>Plans indicate modified assessments for some students as needed.</li> <li>Assessment criteria are clearly written.</li> <li>Plans include formative assessments to use during instruction.</li> <li>Lesson plans indicate possible adjustments based on formative assessment data.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>In addition to the characteristics of "accomplished":</li> <li>Assessments provide opportunities for student choice.</li> <li>Students participate in designing assessments for their own work.</li> <li>Teacher-designed assessments are authentic with real-world application, as appropriate.</li> <li>Students develop rubrics according to teacher-specified learning objectives.</li> <li>Students are actively involved in collecting information from formative assessments and provide input.</li> </ul>

Possible Examples

- The teacher marks papers on the foundation of the U.S. constitution on the basis of grammar and punctuation; for every mistake, the grade drops from an A to a B, a B to a C. etc.
- After the students present their research on globalization, the teacher tells them their letter grade.
   When students ask how he has arrived at the grade, he responds,
   "After all these years in education, I just know what grade to give."
- The teacher says, "What's the difference between formative assessment and the test I give at the end of the unit?"
- The teacher says, "The district gave me this entire curriculum to teach, so I just have to keep moving."

- The district goal for the Europe unit is for students to understand geopolitical relationships. The teacher plans to have the students memorize all the country capitals and rivers.
- The teacher's students receive their tests back; each one is simply marked with a letter grade at the top.
- The plan indicates that the teacher will pause to "check for understanding" but without a clear indication of how that is to be done.
- A student says, "If half the class passed the test, why are we all reviewing the material again?"

- Mr. K knows that his students will write a persuasive essay on the state assessment; he plans to have them write a variety of persuasive essays as preparation.
- Ms. M has worked on a writing rubric for her research assessment; she has drawn on multiple sources to be sure the levels of expectation are clearly defined.
- Mr. C creates a short questionnaire to distribute to his students at the end of class; on the basis of their responses, he will organize them into different groups during the next lesson's activities.
- Based on the previous morning's formative assessment, Ms. D plans to have 5 students work on a more challenging project while she works with 6 other students to reinforce the concept.

- To teach persuasive writing, Ms. H plans to have her class research and write to the principal on an issue that is important to the students the use of cell phones in class.
- Mr. J's students will write a rubric for their final project on the benefits of solar energy; Mr. J has shown them several sample rubrics, and they will refer to those as they create a rubric of their own.
- After the lesson Mr. L asks students to rate their understanding on a scale of 1 to 5; the students know that their rating will indicate their activity for the next lesson.
- Mrs. T has developed a routine for her class: students know that if they are struggling with a math concept, they will sit in a small group with her during workshop time.

Framework for Teaching - Domain 2: Classroom Environment – Teacher

2A - Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport	An essential skill of teaching is that of managing relationships with students and ensuring that those among students are positive and supportive. Teachers create an environment of respect and rapport in their classrooms by the ways they interact with students and by the interaction they encourage and cultivate among students.  An important aspect of respect and rapport relates to how the teacher responds to students and how students are permitted to treat one another. Patterns of interactions are critical to the overall tone of the class. In a respectful environment, all students feel valued and safe.

Possible Exampl
-----------------

- A student slumps in his/her chair following a comment by the teacher.
- Students roll their eyes at a classmate's idea; the teacher does not respond.
- Many students talk when the teacher and other students are talking; the teacher does not correct them.
- Some students refuse to work with other students.
- Teacher does not call students by their names.

- Students attend passively to the teacher, but tend to talk, pass notes, etc. when other students are talking.
- A few students do not engage with others in the classroom, even when put together in small groups.
- Students applaud halfheartedly following a classmate's presentation to the class.
- Teacher says, "Don't talk that way to your classmates," but student shrugs his/her shoulders.

- Teacher greets students by name as they enter the class or during the lesson.
- The teacher gets on the same level with students, kneeling, for example, beside a student working at a desk.
- Students attend fully to what the teacher is saying.
- Students wait for classmates to finish speaking before beginning to talk.
- Students applaud politely following a classmate's presentation to the class.
- Students help each other and accept help from each other.
- Teacher and students use courtesies such as "please," "thank you," "excuse me."
- Teacher says, "Don't talk that way to your classmates," and the insults stop.

- Teacher inquires about a student's soccer game last week-end (or extracurricular activities or hobbies).
- Students hush classmates causing a distraction while the teacher or another student is speaking.
- Students clap enthusiastically after one another's presentations for a job well done.
- The teacher says, "That's an interesting idea, Josh, but you're forgetting..."

2B - Establishing a Culture for Learning  • Importance of the	A "culture of learning" refers to the atmosphere in the classroom that reflects the educational importance of the work undertaken by both students and teacher. It describes the norms that govern the interactions among individuals about the activities and assignments, the value of hard work and perseverance, and the general tone of the class. The classroom is characterized by high cognitive energy and by a sense that what is happening there is important and that it is essential to get it right. There are high expectations for all students. The classroom is a place where the teacher and students value learning and hard work.

Critical Attributes	<ul> <li>The teacher conveys that the reasons for the work are external or trivializes the learning goals and assignments.</li> <li>The teacher conveys to at least some students that the work is too challenging for them</li> <li>Students exhibit little or no pride in their work.</li> <li>Class time is devoted more to socializing than to learning.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Teacher's energy for the work is neutral, indicating neither a high level of commitment nor "blowing it off".</li> <li>The teacher conveys high expectations for only some students.</li> <li>Students comply with the teacher's expectations for learning, but they don't indicate commitment on their own initiative for the work.</li> <li>Many students indicate that they are looking for an "easy path".</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>The teacher communicates the importance of learning and the assurance that with hard work all students can be successful in it.</li> <li>The teacher demonstrates a high regard for student abilities.</li> <li>Teacher conveys an expectation of high levels of student effort.</li> <li>Students expend good effort to complete work of high quality.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>In addition to the characteristics of "accomplished":</li> <li>The teacher communicates a genuine passion for the subject.</li> <li>Students indicate that they are not satisfied unless they have complete understanding.</li> <li>Students' questions and comments indicate a desire to understand the content rather than, for example, simply learn a procedure for getting the correct answer.</li> <li>Students recognize the efforts of their classmates.</li> <li>Students take initiative in improving the quality of their work.</li> </ul>

Possible Examples

- The teacher tells students that they're doing lessons because it's on the test, in the book, or mandated by the district.
- Teacher says to a student, "Why don't you try this easier problem?"
- Students turn in sloppy or incomplete work.
- Students don't engage in work, and the teacher ignores it.
- Students have not completed their homework, and the teacher does not respond.
- Almost all of the activities are busy work.

- Teacher says, "Let's get through this."
- Teachers says, "I think most of you will be able to do this."
- Students consult with one another to determine how to fill out a worksheet but do not encourage each other to questions their ideas.
- Teacher does not encourage students who are struggling.
- Only some students get down to work after an assignment is given or after entering the room.

- Teacher says, "This is important: you'll need to speak grammatical English when you apply for a job."
- Teacher says, "This idea is really important! It's central to our understanding of history."
- Teacher says, "Let's work on this together; it's hard, but you all will be able to do it well."
- Teacher hands a paper back to a student, saying, "I know you can do a better job on this." The student accepts the comment without complaint.
- Students get down to work right away when an assignment is given or after entering the room.

- The teacher says, "It's really fun to find the patterns for factoring polynomials."
- Student asks a classmate to explain a concept or procedure since she didn't quite follow the teacher's explanation.
- Students question one another on answers.
- Student asks the teacher whether he can redo a piece of work since he now sees how it could be strengthened.
- Students work even when the teacher isn't working with them or directing their efforts.

Framework for Teaching - Domain 2: Classroom Environment – Teacher

2C - Managing Classroom Procedures  • Management of	A smoothly functioning classroom is a prerequisite to good instruction and high levels of student engagement. Teachers establish and monitor routines and procedure for the smooth operation of the classroom and the efficient use of time. Hallmarks of a well-managed operation of the classroom are that instructional groups are used effectively, noninstuctional tasks are completed efficiently, and transitions between activities and management of materials and supplies are skillfully done in order to maintain momentum and maximize instructional time. The establishment of efficient routines, and success in teaching students to employ them, may be inferred from the sense that the class "runs itself".

- When moving into small groups, students are confused about where they are supposed to go, whether they should take their chair, etc.
- There are long lines for materials and supplies, or distributing supplies is time consuming.
- Students bump into one another lining up or sharpening pencils.
- Roll taking consumes much time at the beginning of the lesson, and students are not working on anything during the process.
- Most students ask what they are to do or look around for clues from others.

- Some students not working with the teacher are not productively engaged in learning.
- Transitions between large- and small-group activities are rough, but they are accomplished.
- Students are not sure what to do when materials are being distributed or collected.
- Students ask some clarifying questions about procedures.
- The attendance or lunch count consumes more time than it would need if the procedure were more routinized.

- Students get started on an activity while the teacher takes attendance.
- Students move smoothly between large-and small-group activities.
- The teacher has an established timing device, such as counting down to signal students to return to their desks.
- Teacher has an established attention signal, such as raising a hand, or dimming the lights.
- One member of each small group collects materials for the table.
- There is an established color-coded system indicating where materials should be stored.
- In small-group work, students have established roles, they listen to one another summarize different vies, etc.
- Cleanup at the end of a lesson is fast and efficient.

- Students direct classmates in small groups not working directly with the teacher to be more efficient in their work.
- A student reminds classmates of the roles that they are to play within the group.
- A student redirects a classmate to the table he should be at following a transition.
- Students propose an improved attention signal.
- Students independently check themselves into class on the attendance board.

2D - Managing Student Behavior	In order for students to be able to engage deeply with content, the classroom environment must be orderly; the atmosphere must feel businesslike and productive, without being authoritarian. In a productive classroom, standards of conduct are clear to students; they know what they are permitted to do and what they can expect of their classmates. Even when their behavior is being corrected, students feel respected; their dignity is not undermined. Skilled teachers regard positive student behavior not as an end in itself, but as a prerequisite to high levels of engagement in content.

2E - Organizing Physical Space  • Safety and	The use of the physical environment to promote student learning is a hallmark of an experienced teacher. Its use varies, of course, with the age of the students: in a primary classroom, centers and reading corners may structure class activities, while with older students, the position of chairs and desks can facilitate, or inhibit, rich discussion. Naturally, classrooms must be safe (no dangling wires or dangerous traffic patterns), and all students must be able to see and hear what's going on so they can participate actively. Both the teacher and students make effective use of computer (and other) technology.

3A -Communicating with students

- Expectations for Learning
- Directions and Procedures
- Explanation of Content
- Use of Oral and Written Language

Teachers communicate with students for several independent, but related purposes. First they convey that teaching and learning are purposeful activities; they make that purpose clear to students. They also provide clear directions for classroom activities, so that students know what it is that they are to do. When teachers present concepts and information, those presentations are made with accuracy, clarity, and imagination. When expanding upon the topic is appropriate to the lesson, skilled teachers embellish their explanations with analogies or metaphors, linking them to students' interests and prior knowledge. Teachers occasionally withhold information from students (for example in an inquiry-based science lesson) to encourage them to think on their own, but what information they do convey is accurate and reflects deep understanding. The teacher's use of language is vivid, rich and error free, affording the opportunity for students to hear language well used and to extend their own vocabularies. Teacher presents complex concepts in ways that provide scaffolding and access to students.

3B - Questioning and Discussion Techniques

- Quality of Questions/Prompts
- Discussion
   Techniques
- Student Participation

Questioning and discussion are the only instructional strategies specifically referred to in the framework for teaching; this fact reflects their central importance to teachers' practices. But in the framework, it is important that questioning and discussion are used as techniques to deepen student understanding are being used rather than serving as recitation or a verbal quiz. Good teachers use divergent as well as convergent questions, framed in such a way that they invite students to formulate hypotheses, make connections, or challenge previously held views. Students' responses to questions are valued; effective teachers are especially adept at responding to and building upon student responses and making use of their ideas. High- quality questions encourage students to make connections among concepts or events previously believed to be unrelated, and arrive at new understandings of complex material. Effective teachers also pose questions for which they do not know the answers. Even when a question has a limited number of correct responses, the question, being non-formulaic, is likely to promote thinking by students. Class discussions are animated, engaging all students in important issues and in using their own language to deepen and extend their understanding. These discussions may be based on questions formulated by the students themselves.

Not all questions must be at high cognitive level in order for a teacher's performance to be rated at a high level; that is, when exploring a topic, a teacher might begin with a series of questions of low cognitive challenge to provide a review, or to ensure that everyone in the class is "on board." Furthermore, if the questions are at a high level, but only a few students participate in the discussion, the teacher's performance on the component cannot be judged to be at a high level. In addition, in lessons involving student in small-group work, the quality of the student's questions and discussion in their small groups may be considered part of this component.

In order for students to formulate high-level questions, they must have learned how to do so. Therefore, high-level questions from students, either in the full class, or in small group discussions, provide evidence that these skills have been taught.

worksheet or performing a rote procedure, they are unlikely to be cognitively engaged.

3C - Engaging Students in Learning

- Activities and Assignments
- Grouping of Students
- Instructional Materials and Resources
- Structure and Pacing

Student engagement in learning is the centerpiece of the framework for teaching; all other components contribute to it. When students are engaged in learning, they are not merely "busy," nor are they "on task." The critical distinction between a classroom in which students are compliant and busy and one in which they are engaged is that in the latter students are developing their understanding through what they do. That is, they are engaged in discussing, debating, answering "what if?" questions, discovering patterns, and the like. They may be selecting their work from a range of (teacher-arranged) choices and making important contributions to the intellectual life of the class. Such activities don't typically consume the entire lesson, but they are essential components of engagement.

A lesson in which students are engaged usually has a discernible structure: a beginning, a middle, and an end, with scaffolding provided by the teacher or by the activities themselves. The teacher organizes student tasks to provide cognitive challenge and then encourages students to reflect on what they have done and what they have learned. This is, the lesson has closure, in which students derive the important learning from their own actions. A critical question for an observer in determining the degree of student engagement is, "What are the students being asked to do?" If the answer to that question is that they are filling in blanks on a

In observing a lesson, it is essential not only to watch the teacher but also to pay close attention to the students and what they are doing. The best evidence for student engagement is what students are saying and doing as a consequence of what the teacher does, or has planned.

Framework for Teaching - Domain 3: Instruction - Teacher

3D - Using Assessment in Instruction

- Assessment Criteria
- Monitoring of Student Learning
- Feedback to Students
- Student Self-Assessment and Monitoring of Progress

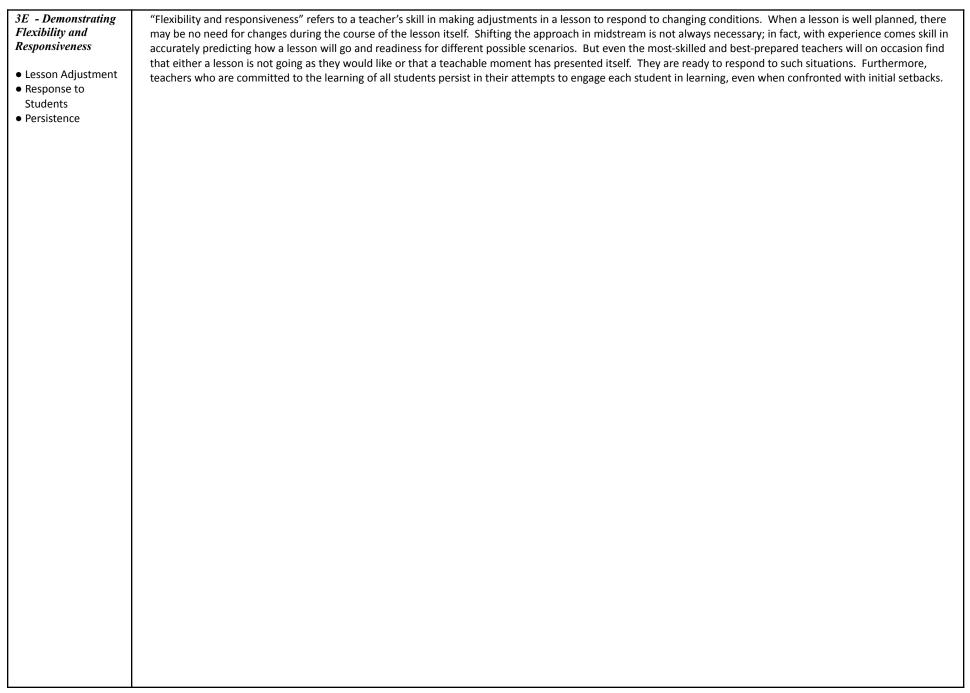

Assessment of student learning plays an important role in instruction; no longer does it signal the end of instruction; it is now recognized to be an integral part of instruction. While assessment for learning has always been and will continue to be an important aspect of teaching (it's important for teachers to know whether students have learned what was intended), assessment for learning has increasingly come to play an important role in classroom practice. And in order to assess student learning for the purposes of instruction, teachers must have their "fingers on the pulse" of a lesson, monitoring student understanding and, where appropriate, offering feedback to students. Of course, a teacher's monitoring of student learning, though the action may superficially appear to be the same as that of monitoring student behavior, has a fundamentally different purpose in each case. When teachers are monitoring behavior, they are alert to students who may be passing notes, or bothering their neighbors; when teachers are monitoring student learning, they look carefully at what students are writing, or listen carefully to the questions students ask, in order to gauge whether they require additional activity or explanation in order to grasp the content. In each case, the teacher may be circulating in the room, but his/her purpose in doing so is quite different in the two situations. Similarly, on the surface, questions asked of students for the purpose of monitoring learning are fundamentally different from those used to build understanding; in the former, teachers are alert to students' revealed misconceptions, whereas in the latter the questions are designed to explore relationships or deepen understanding. For the purpose of monitoring, many teachers create questions specifically to determine the extent of student understanding and use techniques (such as exit tickets) to ascertain the degree of understanding of every student in the class. Indeed, encouraging students (and actually teaching them the necessary skills

4A - Reflecting on Teaching

Accuracy

Reflecting on teaching encompasses the teacher's thinking that follows any instructional event – an analysis of the many decisions made both in planning and implementation of a lesson. By considering these elements in light of the impact they had on student learning, teachers can determine where to focus their efforts in making revisions and what aspects of the instruction they will continue in future lessons. Teachers may reflect on their practice through collegial conversations, journal writing, examining student work, informal observations and conversations with students, or simply thinking about their teaching. Reflecting with accuracy, specificity, and ability to use what has been learned in future teaching is a learned skill; mentors, coaches, and supervisors can help teachers acquire and develop the skill of

Use in Future     Teaching	reflecting on teaching through supportive and deep questioning. Over time, this way of thinking and analyzing instruction through the lens of student learning becomes a habit of mind, leading to improvement in teaching and learning.

<ul> <li>4B - Maintaining Accurate Records</li> <li>Student Completion of Assignments</li> <li>Student Progress in</li> </ul>	An essential responsibility of professional educators is keeping accurate records of both instructional and non-instructional events. This record keeping includes student completion of assignments, student progress in learning, and records of non-instructional activities that are part of the day-to-day functions in a school setting, including such things as the return of signed permission slips for a field trip and money for school pictures. Proficiency in this component is vital because these records inform interactions with students and parents and allow teachers to monitor learning and adjust instruction accordingly. The methods of keeping records vary as much as the type of information that is being recorded. For example, records of formal assessments may be recorded electronically with the use of spreadsheets and databases that allow for item analysis and individualized instruction. A less formal means of keeping track of student progress may include anecdotal notes that are kept in student folders.

<ul> <li>4C - Communicating with Families</li> <li>Information About the Instructional Program</li> </ul>	Although the ability of families to participate in their child's learning varies widely due to other family or job obligations, it is the responsibility of teachers to provide opportunities for them to both understand the instructional program and their child's progress. Teachers establish relationships with families by communicating to them about both the instructional program and about individual students, and they invite families to be part of the educational process itself. The level of family participation and involvement tends to be greater at the elementary level when young children are just beginning school. However, the importance of regular communication with families of adolescence cannot be overstated. A teacher's effort to communicate with families conveys an essential caring on the part on the part of the teacher, a quality valued by families of students of all ages.

But in promoting student learning, teachers must work with colleagues to share strategies, plan joint efforts, and plan for the success of individual students. Schools are, in other words, professional organizations for teachers—organizations whose full potential is realized only when teachers regard themselves as members of a professional community. This community is characterized by mutual support and respect and by recognition of the responsibility of all teachers to be constantly seeking ways to improve their practice and to contribute to the life of the school. Inevitably, teachers' duties extend beyond the doors of their classrooms and include activities related to the entire school and/or larger district. These activities include such things as school and district curriculum committees or engagement with the parent-teacher organization. With experience, teachers assume leadership roles in these activities.

4F - Showing Professionalism

- Integrity and Ethical Conduct
- Service to Students
- Advocacy
- Decision Making
- Compliance with School and District Regulations

Expert teachers demonstrate professionalism in service both to students and to the profession. Teaching at the highest levels of performance in this component is student focused, putting students first, regardless of how this sense of priority might challenge long-held assumptions, past practices, or simply what is easier or more convenient for teachers. Accomplished teachers have a strong moral compass and are guided by what is the best interest of students. Such educators display professionalism in a number of ways. For example, they conduct their interactions with colleagues with honesty and integrity. They know their students' needs and seek out resources in order to step in and provide help that may extend beyond the classroom. Teachers advocate for their students in ways that might challenge traditional views and the educational establishment, seeking greater flexibility in the ways school rules and policies are applied. These dedicated educators also display their professionalism in the ways they approach problem solving and decision making, with student needs in mind. Finally, teachers consistently adhere to school and district policies and procedures but are willing to work to improve those that may be outdated or ineffective.

Principal Professional Growth and Effectiveness System
(BC PPGES)

Breckinridge County Schools Principal Professional Growth and Effectiveness System Plan Performance Standards (Measures)

Standards (Measures)

Clearly defined professional responsibilities for principals constitute the foundation for the Principal Professional Growth and Effectiveness System. Performance standards define the criteria expected when principals perform their major duties. For all principals, there are ten performance standards (Figure 1) that guide the performance of the principal. The PPGES provides principals with an assessment of their performance on these standards as measured by Student Growth and Working Conditions Growth Goals. Each measure that comprises the effectiveness system is aligned to and anchored by these standards. While decisions around summative ratings have not been made at this time, principals will eventually receive their summative rating based on the measures. The standards will also inform professional growth planning, superintendent site visits/observations, conversations for feedback and formative, on-going assessments of the principal's performance. The Performance Measure to which each performance standard corresponds is listed in parentheses.

1. Mission, Vision and Core Values (Planning)

Effective educational leaders develop, advocate, and enact a shared mission, vision, and core values of high-quality education and academic success and well-being of each student.

2. Ethics and Professional Norms (Professionalism)

Effective educational leaders act ethically and according to professional norms to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

3. Equity and Cultural Responsiveness (Environment)

Effective educational leaders strive for equity of educational opportunity and culturally responsive practices to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

4. Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (Instruction)

Effective educational leaders develop and support intellectually rigorous and coherent systems of curriculum, instruction, and assessment to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

5.Community of Care and Support for Students (Instruction)

Effective educational leaders cultivate an inclusive, caring, and supportive school community that promotes the academic success and well-being of each student.

6.Professional Capacity of School Personnel (Instruction)

Effective educational leaders develop the professional capacity and practice of school personnel to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

7. Professional Community for Teachers and Staff (Environment)

Effective educational leaders foster a professional community of teachers and other professional staff to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

8. Meaningful Engagement of Families and Community (Professionalism)

Effective educational leaders engage families and the community in meaningful, reciprocal, and mutually beneficial ways to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

9. Operations and Management (Planning)

Effective educational leaders manage school operations and resources to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

10.School Improvement (Planning)

Effective educational leaders act as agents of continuous improvement to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

Definitions of Performance Levels

The rubric provides a description of four levels of how well the standards (i.e., duties) within the performance measure are performed on a continuum from ineffective to exemplary. The use of the scale enables superintendents to acknowledge effective performance (i.e., exemplary and accomplished) and provides two levels of feedback for principals not meeting expectations (i.e., developing and ineffective). The definitions in Figure 2 offer general descriptions of the performance levels. Note: Principals are expected to perform at the accomplished level.

Cat.	Description	Definition
Ex e m pl ar y	The principal performing at this level maintains performance, accomplishments, and behaviors that consistently and considerably surpass the established performance standard, and does so in a manner that exemplifies the school's mission and goals. This rating is reserved for performance that is truly exemplary.	Exceptional performance:  • sustains high performance  • empowers teachers and students and consistently exhibits behaviors that have a strong positive impact on student academic progress and the school climate  • serves as a role model to others
Ac co m pli sh ed	The principal meets the performance standard in a manner that is consistent with the school's mission and goals.	Proficient performance:
De ve lo pi ng	The principal is starting to exhibiting desirable traits related to the standard, but has not yet reached the full level of proficiency expected (i.e., developing) or the principal's performance is lacking in a particular area (i.e., needs improvement). The principal often performs less than required in the established performance standard or in a manner that is inconsistent with the school's mission and goals.	Below acceptable performance:     • requires support in meeting the standards     • results in less than expected quality of student academic progress     • requires principal professional growth be jointly identified and planned between the principal and superintendent
In eff ec tiv e	The principal consistently performs below the established performance standard or in a manner that is inconsistent with the school's mission and goals.	Unacceptable performance:  • does not meet the requirements contained in the job description  • results in minimal student academic progress  • may contribute to a recommendation for the employee not being considered for continued employment

Performance Measures Alignment to PSEL Standards

The alignment between the performance measures and the Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (PSEL) standards are shown.
